EXPLOSIVE ORDNANCE DISPOSAL TRAINING
DETACHMENT #1
INDIAN HEAD, MARYLAND

The Secretary of the Navy takes pleasure in presenting the NAVY UNIT COMMENDATION to—

NAVAL SCHOOL, EXPLOSIVE ORDNANCE DISPOSAL
INDIAN HEAD, MARYLAND

for service as set forth in the following:

CITATION:

For exceptionally meritorious service while engaged in the training of Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD) personnel from 1 October 1977 to 31 May 1981. Through superb leadership and direction, the Naval School, Explosive Ordnance Disposal, Indian Head, Maryland staff provided highly technical training to more than seventy-five hundred personnel, consisting of all military services, Federal agencies, and foreign military and civilian personnel in a total accident free environment. The development of new training programs and instructional concepts allowed students to obtain state of the art training in both U.S. and foreign warfare techniques during a period of austere manning and resources. The caliber and effectiveness of the foreign training program developed and administered by the Naval School, Explosive Ordnance Disposal received numerous accolades from participating foreign nations. The participation in national exercises and development of a highly technical course of instruction in improvised device procedures received the highest praise from U.S. Government officials and enhanced significantly peacetime capability in dealing with such incidents. By their extensive professional knowledge, managerial abilities, and complete dedication to duty, the officers, enlisted personnel, and civilian employees of the Naval School, Explosive Ordnance Disposal, Indian Head, Maryland reflected great credit upon themselves and upheld the highest traditions of the United States Armed Forces.
